Symptoms

Of Defective Vision

Many persons have the idea that defective vision manifests itself only in a failure or inability to see clearly, but itching, burning, smarting of the lids, dull pains in the eyes or head, even the back of the head, all come from irregularities in the optical construction of the eyes and may be entirely relieved by correctly fitted glasses.

DR. J. T. JOHNSON Guarantees to correct every case that he undertakes. If your eyes are giving annoyance consult him at once.

AS TO VACCINATION.

The Work Progressing Nicely—The Time Extended.

At a joint meeting of aldermen and physicians held in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon it was resolved that on tomorrow, Wednesday, Mar. 22nd' the court house should again be opened for the vaccination of all whites, of both sexes, who might apply for that purpose; that the room over the market should be opened for the vaccination of the colored people; and that white ladies who had objections to going to the court house could be vaccinated at Dr. Wilson's office over Ward's drug store. The hours of vaccination will be from 9 o'clock a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m. The expense to the people will be as light as possible, the terms being made known by the physicians in charge.

In the mean time vaccination in private practice is being pushed by the physicians as energetically as possible and the whole police force of the town are waiting on the people in a house to house canvass to inform such as are not yet acquainted with the city ordinance, that the law relating to vaccination must be enforced. The people of Greensboro have already shown a commendable degree of interest in the safety and welfare of the city by coming forward in large numbers and being vaccinated. It is estimated that about 8,000 of our citizens have recently been vaccinated and to their promptness in this matter we believe that a serious outbreak of smallpox amongst us has been averted.

THE "DANCING BEGGAR."

"Billy Goliath" Back On the Streets Of Greensboro.

"Billie Goliath" has returned Promptly ejected from Raleigh, he turned up in Durham Saturday afternoon and upon the urgent invitation of the police there, he has come to Greensboro to serve as an eyesore to the general public and as an actual fright to children and timid ladies until the authorities here shall dispose of him.

"Billie Goliath" is the negro afflicted with Saint Vitus' dance, and is better known as the "dancing beggar." He carries some small strips of tin and lounges about the street asking alms.

What is the best disposition to make of him—that is the question. If he is sent away he will turn up in some other town and be the same old eyesore to its inhabitants until the authorities send him away. He has been in Greensboro a number of times and never stays away for any great length of time. He has probably been an itinerant long enough and the city or county should take care of him.

BIG LUMBER DEAL.

Mr. R. W. Brooks Has a Tremendous Contract.

When it comes to handling lumber in large quantities Mr. R. W. Brooks always does his share of the business. He has just closed a deal with the Norfolk & Western Railway people to furnish them a tremendous lot of pine lumber. A Telegram man heard of it this morning and upon inquiring learned this immense order will be shipped in installments, the first installment being nearly half a million feet, or about fifty carloads.

Mr. Brooks has repeatedly demonstrated his capacity and ability to handle in a most satisfactory manner, such large orders as these, and the Telegram congratulates him on his success.

J. M. Reese is making a handsome addition to his residence on South Greene street.

G. Will Armfield is preparing to erect two modern new residences on Eugene street, near its intersection with Walker avenue.

Dr. Stamey's handsome residence, corner Asheboro, Fayetteville and Gorrell streets, is about completed and will soon be ready for occupancy. The electrical work and plumbing has been completed and the work of painting the interior will be begun this week.

Examination of Schley

Washington, March 20—Winfield S. Schley has successfully passed the physical examination for promotion to the rank of rear admiral in the navy before a medical board convened at the Washington navy yard. To complete the legal test, he must also pass a moral, mental and professional examination, and his papers are now before a board of rear admirals, which convened at the navy department today.

NATIONAL CAPITAL MATTERS.

Sympathy For the Windsor Hotel Proprietor.

GUTHRIE ON THE AMENDMENT.

Mr. McAdoo and Wife in Washington—Postmasters Commissioned —Virginia Senatorship.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, March 21—The announcement of the death of Mrs. Warren Leland and her daughter, Miss Helen, as a result of the fire at the Windsor Hotel in New York City, was received by their friends in Washington, where they are very well known, with quite a shock. Only a week ago last Saturday Mr. Leland, who is the proprietor of the hotel, with his wife and daughter were at the Shoreham Hotel as the guests of the proprietor, Mr. Devine. It was the intention then of Mr. Leland and family to take an extended trip to South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, to be gone until about the first of May. Mr. Leland had not been in very good health, and the trip was to be taken under the advice of his physician, who had insisted upon it. After spending five days in Washington as the guests of the Shoreham hotel, something occurred to induce Mr. Leland to abandon the trip, and the family returned to New York city, where it would appear fate had decreed such a terrible blow to the husband and father.

Mr. Devine in speaking of the incident the other day spoke of Mr. Warren Leland saying that the sympathies of hotel men all over the Union will go out to the afflicted man, not only the sympathies of his brethren in the profession, but hundreds of his personal friends in every part of the country. "Warren F. Leland," he said, "belongs to a family that has been preeminent in the hotel business of America for years, and the name is as thoroughly identified with that business as that of Gould with finance, or Choate with the law. All of the Lelands were splendid men, and Warren F. Leland is a thorough type of the true-hearted, considerate gentleman, who as a landlord and citizen stands among the best."

Among prominent North Carolina politicians in Washington is William A. Guthrie, of Durham. Mr. Guthrie says that matters political in North Carolina since the adjournment of the legislature are very quiet. The only talk of a political nature heard in the state is in relation to the proposed constitutional amendment adopted by the legislature. He does not think there is much doubt but the amendment will be adopted at the election when the people will be called upon to ratify or reject the proposed provisions.

Mrs. D. Barton Jones, who has been an invalid for many months, leaves today for Asheville, North Carolina, where she goes to recuperate. The health of Mrs. Jones has much improved, but she is naturally very weak from the effects of her long illness. She will remain at Asheville for several weeks, and may remain during the hot weather.

W. D. McAdoo and wife, of Greensboro, N. C., are among the North Carolina visitors to the National Capital, Mr. McAdoo being here on business While in the city they are stopping at the National Hotel.

Among other well known North Carolina people in the city is Isidor Wallace. He will be here on a business trip for several days, and is making his headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel.

N. W. Blair, of Wilmington, N. C., is at the St. James.

Postmasters have been commissioned in North Carolina as follows: George Porter, Bernice; Samuel W. Hoffer, Bosley; Elisha J. W. Anders, Ivanhoe; and Needham G. Holland, Pinkney.

At the postoffice department it is said that very few appointments to fourth-class offices in North Carolina will be announced, except to fill vacancies caused by deaths or resignations. Nearly all of the important offices have been filled.

Friends of Senator Martin, of Virginia, say that it is now too late for a successful contest to be made against his re-election Several possible candidates have been mentioned, but none of them have as yet, with one exception, publicly announced their candidacy, and most of them are regarded as unavailable.

Jim's Private Smites An Officer.

There was a colored festival or some such "to do" in Hagan's Auditorium last night and, strange to say, nobody was shot. Absolute peace and tranquillity was not to be, however, and in midst of the glad festivities riot broke loose. Officer Weatherly started in to stop the feud and just as he reached the door was smitten on the ear by Will Keeble, an ex-private in Jim Young's regiment of banditti. Officer Weatherly pulled him in and carried him to the lock-up, making an example for the rest.

THE NEW ENGLAND EDITORS.

Will Spend Tomorrow In Greensboro—Arrive Tonight.

The party of New England newspaper men who are making a tour of Dixie will arrive in Greensboro at 6 35 tonight from Raleigh, where they have been since yesterday. They will remain here all day tomorrow. Mayor Z. V. Taylor and Mr. J. S. Hunter, president of the Industrial and Immigration Association, are busily engaged making arrangements to entertain the editors and show them the city. They will be taken in carriages to the principal places of interest and the doors of the club rooms of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association will be thrown open to them.

These men are the editors of the leading newspapers of New England and will write lengthy articles to their respective papers concerning the city's advantages. They charge nothing for their "write-ups" and only ask that their expenses while in the city be paid.

Greensboro will welcome them.

MR. ROSTEL HAS FLED.

Failed Last Night and Shook Our Dust This Morning.

Greensboro people had looked upon Edwin Rostel's appearance here, in Shakespearean plays, as a kind of treat, and the audience which half filled th Academy of Music last night was greatly disappointed when it was learned that only two members of the company were here and that consequently the engagement was to be a complete failure. The two members here were Mr. Rostel and Mis Margaret Delmond. They presented scenes from "Richelieu," "Hamlet," and "Othello" Mr. Rostel's rendition of Hamlet's soliloquy and the death scene in Othello were was remarkably fine, and despite the fact that he was constantly annoyed and interrupted by a few of the audience who were not admirers of the beautiful and passionate language of Shakespeare, he displayed rare talent.

It is thought that the company disbanded in Charlotte, some of the members being dissatisfied. Part of them went to Spartanburg, S. C., and Mr. Rostel and Miss Delmond left for that place this morning. It is needless to say that, with all his talent, he will not be welcome to Greensboro again.

Thacker & Brockmann's new spring lines of dress goods, silks, wash fabrics, trimmings, novelties, etc., are being opened up and in a few days they will be ready to show the most complete and attractive line of spring goods they have ever shown.

The Filipinos Are in a Desperate Condition.

LANA IS NOW EDITING A PAPER.

Gen. Pantalas Garcia Appointed to Succeed Him as Commanding General.

By Cable to the TELEGRAM.

Manila, March 21—The desperate condition of the Filipinos is shown by the fact that their commanding general, Antonio Lana, has been deposed The fact became known here today, and follows closely on the beheading of Gen. Lagardo for arguing that it was impossible to resist the advance of the Americans.

Gen. Lana was dismissed as a result of a quarrel with the Filipino secretary of war, and the issuance of a manifesto requiring all foreigners to aid the native cause under penalty of death.

Gen. Pantalas Garcia has been appointed to succeed Lana, who has retired to Pampagua, where he is editing a newspaper.

It is reported here that the railroad is in operation between Polo and Daquapar and that the Filipino government is receiving ten per cent. of the receipts and the right of free transportation of troops.

An Explanation.

To the public :—Through false representations by Mr. Edwin Rostell, and the complimentary notices given him in the Charlotte Observer and other papers, he was permitted to play at the Academy of Music last evening. We beg to assure our patrons that such will not occur again, and those who feel that they were in any way buncoed, can get their money returned by calling on the management, although our net receipts were only $8.00. Their engagement for tonight has been cancelled.

The performance of Murray & Mack, in "Finnigan's Ball," tomorrow night will be one of the best of the season, and worthy of your patronage. Proprs. Academy of Music.

Country People Excited.

Reports are rife in the country that Greensboro is full of smallpox and in quarantine and that country people are not allowed to come into town. A gentleman who lives almost fifteen miles in the country was in town today and said that he was told that he would not be allowed to come in, but decided to try. He says the country people are more excited than the people of the city.

Be it said for the benefit of the country people that there has been but one case of smallpox here and that no more are expected. Those who have been in the least exposed are detained at a safe distance from any inhabited place and should another case appear the disease could not spread.

A New Band.

Greensboro is to have a new brass band. A number of our musical young men met last night and organized by electing the following officers: J. G. Fowler, manager; Luke Andrews, secretary; Herman Buchanan, treasurer; Claude Elam, band leader. Most of the instruments have been purchased and the band will consist of about twelve pieces at first, but will probably be increased at an early day. Regular and systematic practice will at once be inaugurated and before long we expect to see the boys turn out in handsome new uniforms. They will be ready to take a leading part in the festivities of the industrial exhibit and firemen's tournament next August.

Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith is in Havana.

STAND BY THEM.

As an ardent advocate of the policy of patronizing home industry and home enterprise, we have stood by the Southern Stock Mutual Insurance Company and the Underwriters of Goldsboro. The way to make home prosperous is to invest your money at home where its benefits and results will be apparent. Southern people have long been clamoring for more industries of every kind, enterprises built up and controlled by home capital. Until recent years the clamor amounted, it seemed, to but little; but the seed was sown, the work has commenced, and, best of all, is succeeding in a degree that is highly satisfactory.

The particular line of industry in mind just now—that mentioned above—we desire to say, is being admirably managed and the results are most gratifying to both stock- and policy-holders. Founded on the best business methods and principles and officered by the most efficient and careful, pushing and energetic men, our home companies are marching steadily forward and their business is increasing with the days. In this connection we find the following paragraph in the News and Observer of today:

We noted a few days ago that the home fire insurance companies in the several towns and cities had a prosperous year for 1898. The Mutual of Greensboro has paid its policy-holders a dividend of twenty per cent. The Newbern Journal says that the Newbern Mutual Company has declared a dividend of twenty per cent. All the money is kept at home. The need o' the state is to employ its capital in as many such ways as is feasible.

Ex-United States Senator Hon Patrick Walsh, of Georgia, died at his home in Augusta Sunday morning after a three months' illness with nervous prostration He was a native Irishman, but came with his father's family to this country when he was a small lad. He learned the printing trade on the Charleston (S. C.) Evening News, moving to Augusta in 1862 where he became editor of the Augusta Chronicle. He served as state legislator several terms and was appointed United States Senator by Governor Northern in 1894. He was mayor of Augusta at the time of his death. That he was a live man, a thinking man, and one who had an eye single to the best interests of his home of adoption is shown by the following from a short sketch of his life:

Mayor Walsh was one of the most prominent men in Georgia, and had national recognition as the earnest champion of southern development, and, perhaps, the best authority on the material resources and manufacturing products of the south.

If the political star of William Jennings Bryan is still in the ascendency and if he is still gaining ground in the hearts of the people, it looks like the people would know it without so much strenuous insisting on the part of newspapers that such is the case.

To promote and advance the educational interests of the state is a duty the present owes to future generations.

Rev. E. Edwards, pastor of the English Baptist Church at Minersville, Pa., when suffering with rheumatism, was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says; "A few applications of this liniment proved of great service to me. It subdued the inflammation and relieved the pain. Should any sufferer profit by giving Pain Balm a trial it will please me." For sale by C. E. Holton.

"Between congress and the army, General Joe Wheeler appears to be one of the 'first in war, first in peace' heroes—and he comes pretty near to being the rest of it too," says the Philadelphia Ledger.

What's In a Name?

In an article on Indian names Mr. Frank Terry comments on the odd effect produced by giving rein to this fancy for distinguished appellations in the renaming of Indians. Often their native names are unpronounceable and the translations long and not in accordance with our ideas of what is pleasing. So, instead of simply turning Bear-Sits-Down or Mule-Kicks-Up or Jumping Rabbit into English, the Indian is renamed entirely, and is given the first famous name that comes to mind.

"William Penn, Fitz-Hugh Lee, David B. Hill and William Shakespeare," says Mr. Terry, "are policemen at the Shoshone agency, Wyoming. Only a short while ago it was reported that on an Indian reservation in New Mexico William Breckinridge arrested John G. Carlisle for being drunk and disorderly.

"It would no doubt surprise the reader of this should I say that I have seen George Washington, John Quincy Adams, Franklin Pierce, Rip Van Winkle, Allen G. Thurman and Hilary Herbert engaged together in a game of shinney. Yet this interesting spectacle I have gazed upon, and I have been the enforced witness to a severe spanking administered to James G. Blaine."—Youth's Companion.

Lizards That Grow New Eyes.

The tuatara lizard of New Zealand is said to be one of the most ancient forms of animal life now existing. It originally possessed four eyes, but now has to be contented with but two. It lays eggs, and these take no less than 13 months to hatch out, the embryos passing the winter in a state of hibernation.

These remarkable animals are found only in one or two places in the colony, and they are rapidly becoming scarce, as collectors from every part of the world are continually on their track. They are about 18 inches in length, and, like many of the lizards, are said to have the characteristic of being able to replace portions of their limbs, etc., which have been destroyed. One owned by Mr. Carl Hanser of Awanui had the misfortune to lose an eye some time ago, and now a complete new eye, as perfect as the undamaged one, has grown in the place of that lost.

While the eye was developing the lizard seemed to be no more inconvenienced than a human being is in the growing of finger nails or hair.

Trying It on the Dog.

Lamson lives on the South Side. Carter, his arch enemy, lives next door. Trouble has been brewing, and Lamson was aching to give Carter a "piece of his mind," when he suddenly conceived a brilliant idea.

He bought a cheap dog of questionable breed and named him Carter. Whenever Mr. Carter was outside his house, Lamson would let his dog out, and standing on his doorstep he would fire the following or similar soulful talk at the canine:

"Carter, you are a cur. Your mother had the mange. I am going to kick the stuffin out of you, you miserable thing. If you were not so hungry looking, I would kill you. You ain't even good enough for sausage meat, you lopsided, cheap, good for nothing," etc.

The neighbors wonder why Mr. Carter does not have Mr. Lamson arrested, but Mr. Carter has discovered the base plot and will move next week.—Chicago Journal.

His Annoying Problem.

"I wonder," she said, knitting her brows in a perplexed way, "whether"—

And then she paused. It was her first experience in keeping house on an allowance, and naturally many problems presented themselves.

"I wonder," she repeated, "whether, when woman comes into her proper sphere and exercises her rightful influence, if she legislates the first of every month out of existence the bills will come in the second day or will be entirely abolished. I think the plan would be worth trying, anyway."—Chicago Post.

Didn't Admire American Children.

An American lady in Berlin had occasion to talk to her hostess about American children. "I have read of them," said the German woman proudly. "I have of them in English read. I have two stories read that I might know. I do not wish to go to America. I have read 'Peck's Bad Boy' and 'Helen's Babies.' Ach! I stay by the German children so!"—New York World.

A Bamboo Bridge.

A British consular report from the far east describes a suspension bridge of 300 feet span made of bamboo. The cane is split up into fibers and twisted together to form the cables. Considering its span, the material of the structure is quite remarkable. The old tradition that almost anything can be made out of bamboo receives here a good illustration in the field of engineering.

The Largest Diamond In the World.

This is in possession of the king of Portugal. It has a weight of 1,680 karats 14 ounces and is as large as a hen's egg. It came from Brazil in the eighteenth century and was then valued at $1,000,000, whereas now it has a value of $2,000,000.

It Does Help.

It takes off a good deal of the suffering attending illness and adds greatly to the pleasure of existence for the doctor to tell you that yours was one of the worst cases he ever attended.—Boston Transcript.

Deserved.

Bill—Why do you call your friend a popular song writer?

Jill—Because he never sings his own songs.—Yonkers Statesman.

Gloves of chicken skin were in vogue in the early part of the seventeenth century. They were used at night to give the hand whiteness and delicacy.

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver is inactive you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good alterative and tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at C. E. Holton's drug store. 50 cents per bottle.

Gained Their Point.

In describing the bombardment of Morro Castle at Santiago during the Spanish-American war a war artist who was in Cuba tells how he and some newspaper men managed to attain a point of vantage near the Texas:

A few days previous a rival newspaper dispatch boat, the recipient of certain courtesies with which we had not been favored, had been carrying minor telegrams to the flagship from one point or another, and she was in the habit of sailing in among the fleet, with an air of importance and displaying the signal, "We have dispatches for the admiral."

This, of course, prevented the vessels of the fleet from making her come outside and enabled her to approach the flagship to deliver her communications. Before leaving Port Antonio we had taken in a large supply of fresh fruit, including bananas, so it occurred to one of our very alert and original newspaper men that we should hoist the signal, "We have bananas for the Texas on board."

This we acted upon, and our vessel was allowed to glide in without interference, until we reached the Texas. Once alongside, Captain Philip hailed us with delight, accepted our little gift and told us that a bombardment was very shortly to take place. We thought ourselves in great luck at receiving this news and made outside the lines, keeping as near to the squadron as we were permitted.

Reputation.

In the "Memoir" of Lord Bramwell is a telling illustration of the fact that reputation clings to us, even after many years. The great jurist as a little lad became a pupil at Dr. Reddy's school, where the late Baron Channell, three years his senior, was head boy.

Channell read for the law, and the two school friends scarcely met again until, years afterward, Mr. Channell held a brief in a certain case at Maidstone assizes.

Consultation with the solicitors showed a flaw in the pleadings drawn by them. It was of a sort which in those days would prove fatal to the case. The solicitors could only hope that it would not be discovered.

"Who is against us?" asked Channell.

"Oh," was the reply, "a Mr. Bramwell. Nobody ever heard of him before."

"Then, gentlemen," said the advocate, "we're done. I was at school with that gentleman."

He was right. Bramwell was too clever for them, and they were "done" indeed.

Handling a Cobra.

When I went to the sailer, he held in his hand a very old and ragged rice bag. He said, "I've got a fine stinging fellow here for you." I asked what he meant, so he opened the bag and showed me one of the largest and fiercest looking cobras I had ever seen. I obtained a large fish globe, into which I told him to drop the serpent, bag and all, and then secured the top. I asked him how he became possessed of this dangerous creature.

"Caught it among some timber," said he, "on board a ship at Blackwall, just home from India." "And how did you get here with it in that old rag?" "Well," said he, "I took the train from Blackwall and the omnibus from Fenchurch street, and he (meaning the snake) was quite quiet all the way." "What do you want for it?" "Ten shillings and my expenses." Which I paid. He asked me if I would take another if he caught it, as he had seen one larger than the one he had brought with him.—Bartlett's "Wild Animals In Captivity."

Tune For Tune.

Frederick the Great made generous presents to all musicians except flute players. He played the flute remarkably well himself. A famous flutist once asked permission to play to the king, hoping that Frederick would show his appreciation of his skill by some valuable gift. Frederick listened attentively while he played a difficult piece. "You play very well," he said, "and I will give you a proof of my satisfaction."

So saying, he left the room The musician waited, guessing at the probable nature of the "proof." Presently the king returned with his own flute and played the same piece. Then he bade his visitor "Good day," saying, "I have had the pleasure of hearing you, and it was only fair that you should hear me."

Weight of a Lion.

What does a lion weigh? Those who know the look of the king of beasts best and how small his little body really is will probably come farthest from the truth. About 300 to 350 pounds is a usual estimate. But a full grown lion will tip the scales at no less than 500 pounds. Five hundred and forty pounds is the record for an African lion. His bone is solid and heavy as ivory.

The tiger runs the lion very close. A Bengal tiger, killed two years ago by an English officer, scaled 520 pounds. A tiger this size has, however, considerable more muscular strength than the biggest lion.

Quite Clever.

Bob—How do you stand with your employer so well, Tom? You never laugh at his jokes.

Tom—No, but I dine at the same restaurant, and pretending not to see him I retail all his stories, saying loudly, "I can't tell it so well as he can, but here's a rattling good yarn Mr. D. told us this morning." I've been promoted three times in a year.—Answers.

Birds' Nests.

Many birds vary the composition of the outer layer of the nest according to the circumstances. If the nest is located among growing leaves, the outer layer will be of green moss; if on a dark branch, of natural colored lichens.

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service

JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2 20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9 50. Brunswick and Jeckyl Island are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York and Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jekyl Island. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc, apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thweatt, E. P. A., Southern Ry, 271 Broadway, New York.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by C. E. Holton.

The condition of Senator James K. Jones is reported to be considerably improved and his friends and physician believe that he is on the road to recovery.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, la grippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," will "answer the purpose," or is "just as good" as One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles, Insist vigorously on having it if "something else" is offered you. Howard Gardner.

THE NEW COMPANY.

A Big Concern With Unlimited Capital Behind It.

A special from New York to the Manufacturers' Record, by Rogers, Brown & Co., says:

The Empire Steel & Iron Co. has purchased the furnace at Greensboro, N. C., and the ore properties connected with it, and will develop the ore properties and put the furnace in blast as soon as practicable, probably in May. Rogers, Brown & Co. acted as principals pending the organization of the above-named company. The Empire Steel & Iron Co. is a new corporation organized under the laws of New Jersey with $2,500,000 preferred stock and $2,500,000 common stock. The company is formed for the purpose of acquiring by purchase or lease certain ore mines, blast furnaces and steel works, the details of which it is yet premature to give. It is sufficient to say, perhaps, that the company is not to come before the public in any manner except in the disposition of its manufactured product; that it has unlimited capital behind it, and has an organization composed of men long connected with the iron and steel trades. It will have no securities to offer, but will devote itself wholly to the development of its properties. The Greensboro furnace will be improved by increase of its equipment of blowing and heating power.

"Wanted a Husband."

This delightful comedy will be included in the bill played by the Eunice Goodrich Co., commencing Thursday night at the academy of music. The dialogue of this play is bright and witty and keeps the audience convulsed with laughter every moment, between each act high class specialties will be introduced. The Prodigal has Reverted.

Arthur Jenkins, a small boy who formerly held the position of devil in Thomas' printing office, and who ran away from home some time ago, has, —like the yellow cat, and the rest of boys who run away—come back. For the last four months Arthur has been in Cuba "subbing" for the soldiers who got sick while on guard duty. He went over with the Fourth Tennessee and returned on the transport Michigan which reached Savannah last Wednesday. His description of a skirmish, as seen through a hole in a three-foot brick wall, is quite interesting.

MRS. HOUSEKEEPER:

Please permit us to ask you a very pointed question: Have you a Universal Food Chopper? By this we do no mean a meat grinder, but a Chopper, which takes the place of chopping bowl and beater.

It chops meat, of course, but it does more. You can chop ham, cocoanut, or bread instead of grating it. You can—but we can't tell it all here. Our booklet gives full information Free. You will have use for it every day in the year. It is very simple and very cheap. Please call and let us show it to you. Yours truly,
